GCSS PROFESSIONAL LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES PURPOSE

The Gainesville City School System (GCSS) seeks to provide rigorous, relevant standards, quality instructional resources, and professional learning opportunities that will help teachers and instructional leaders prepare students for college and career opportunities. The professional learning opportunities provided to teachers are research based and personalized to meet individual, school, and district learning needs, as well as meet the expectations of the Georgia Department of Education. Professional learning opportunities are designed to improve student performance and achievement for all learners.

GCSS provides professional learning opportunities based on surveys, interviews and the analysis of student achievement data. Professional learning in the district is organized around learning communities at each school and the district. Instructional leadership is distributed throughout the school and district to focus on continuous improvement for teacher effectiveness and student outcomes. Resources are monitored and used wisely to support new professional learning formats and activities.

Professional learning is evaluated to determine effectiveness in regards to teacher practice and application of strategies. Outcomes align with educator performance and curriculum standards and involve a variety of stakeholders.

The Gainesville City School System operates a three-tiered professional learning system

- Tier 1 Professional Learning is provided to all certified staff. The purpose of Tier 1 Professional Learning is to provide training for overarching best practices, district initiatives, and differentiated professional learning according to school and system data.
- Tier 2 is designed as assistive professional learning that is provided when needs are identified by a group, a school and system data or school administration.
- Tier 3 is targeted intervention to address areas of concern often resulting from an Individual Professional Learning Plan//Goal (PLP/PLG).

The GCSS Professional Learning Opportunities catalog is a living document with internal and external opportunities. Course offerings may be added based on data and district/school identified need. Internal professional development opportunities are created by the district/school and provided to staff. External opportunities are created by outside sources such as area RESAs, the GaDOE and state and national organizations. These external opportunities are vetted and information is distributed to schools.

Schools determine selection of opportunities as it relates to their school improvement plan and identified needs. Professional development offerings that are not part of the GCSS Professional Learning document that require funding for substitute, registration and expenses must be budgeted and listed in your SIP.

The Registration Column indicates who to contact or how to go about registration. If it states, “see site administrator,” then information has been provided to each school. If you can't find a course aligned to your goals, please let us know so we can help provide the appropriate professional growth opportunity.

Looking forward to a successful year of learning in FY19.

- Each PLC will use the Atlas Protocol in all meetings.
- Each PLC will develop and abide by norms.
- Agendas and minutes will be developed, recorded, and disseminated.

ATLAS PROTOCOL

ATLAS Looking at Data Learning from Data is a tool to guide groups of teachers discovering what students, educators, and the public understands and how they are thinking. The tool, developed by Eric Buchovecky, is based in part on the work of the Leadership for Urban Mathematics Project and of the Assessment Communities of Teachers Project. The tool also draws on the work of Steve Seidel and Evangeline Harris-Stefanakis of Project Zero at Harvard University. <https://www.nsrffharmony.org/wp-content/uploads/2017/10/ATLASData-N.pdf>

Selecting Data to Share

Data is the centerpiece of the group discussion. The following guidelines can help in selecting data or artifacts that will promote the most interesting and productive group discussions. Data or artifacts that do not lead to a single conclusion generally lead to rich conversations.

Sharing and Discussion of Data

Discussions of some forms of data sometimes make people feel “on the spot” or exposed, either for themselves, for their students or for their profession. The use of a structured dialogue format provides an effective technique for managing the discussion and maintaining its focus.

A structured dialogue format is a way of organizing a group conversation by clearly defining who should be talking when and about what. While at first it may seem rigid and artificial, a clearly defined structure frees the group to focus its attention on what is most important. In general, structured dialogue formats allot specified times for the group to discuss various aspects of the work.

1. Getting Started

The facilitator reminds the group of the norms. Note: Each of the next four steps should be about 10 minutes in length. It is sometimes helpful for the facilitator to take notes.

The educator providing the data set gives a very brief statement of the data and avoids explaining what s/he concludes about the data if the data belongs to the group rather than the presenter.

2. Describing the Data (10 Minutes)

- The facilitator asks: “What do you see?”
- During this period the group gathers as much information as possible from the data.
- Group members describe what they see in data, avoiding judgments about quality or interpretations. It is helpful to identify where the observation is being made—e.g., “On page one in the second column, third row . . . “
- If judgments or interpretations do arise, the facilitator should ask the person to describe the evidence on which they are based.
- It may be useful to list the group’s observations on chart paper. If interpretations come up, they can be listed in another column for later discussion during Step 3.

3. Interpreting the Data (10 Minutes)

- The facilitator asks: “What does the data suggest?” Second question: “What are the assumptions we make about students and their learning?”
- During this period, the group tries to make sense of what the data says and why. The group should try to find as many different interpretations as possible and evaluate them against the kind and quality of evidence.
- From the evidence gathered in the preceding section, try to infer: what is being worked on and why?
- Think broadly and creatively. Assume that the data, no matter how confusing, makes sense to some people; your job is to see what they may see.
- As you listen to each other’s interpretations, ask questions that help you better understand each other’s perspectives.

4. Implications for Classroom Practice (10 Minutes)

- The facilitator asks: “What are the implications of this work for teaching and assessment?” This question may be modified, depending on the data.
- Based on the group’s observations and interpretations, discuss any implications this work might have for teaching and assessment in the classroom.
- In particular, consider the following questions:
  - What steps could be taken next?
  - What strategies might be most effective?
  - What else would you like to see happen? What kinds of assignments or assessments could provide this information?
  - What does this conversation make you think about in terms of your own practice? About teaching and learning in general?
  - What are the implications for equity?

5. Reflecting on the ATLAS-Looking at Data (10 Minutes)

Presenter Reflection:

- What did you learn from listening to your colleagues that was interesting or surprising?
- What new perspectives did your colleagues provide?
- How can you make use of your colleagues’ perspectives?

Group Reflection:

- What questions about teaching and assessment did looking at the data raise for you?
- Did questions of equity arise?
- How can you pursue these questions further?
- Are there things you would like to try in your classroom as a result of looking at this data? 6.

Debrief the Process

- How well did the process work?
- What about the process helped you to see and learn interesting or surprising things?
- What could be improved?
